Motorcyclists have always been interested in Bonneville, but fueled by the movie, Worlds Fastest Indian, that interest has never been more intense than it is now. Over 150 bikes make the salt their home for one week in September of 2006. Among all those Suzukis and Harley-Davidsons, a group of bikes stood apart: the streamliners that came for only one reason, to break the Land Speed Record for motorcycles.

By the end of the week a new top speed stood at 350 miles per hour, though the old record was exceeded a number of times by different machines on the way to the new record. The energy that makes Bonneville work isn't gasoline, it's the drive of the teams, each trying to break a record or simply meet a self-imposed goal.

Well-known photographer Horst Rösler captured the magic of Bonneville for this new book. The bikes, the limitless salt, the sunburned faces of crew and riders - they're all here, printed on high quality paper and bound as a hardcover book. A book that deserves a place on the shelf or coffee table of any true motorcycle enthusiast.

As a university student exactly feel bored to reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library or make summary for some book, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's soul or real their hobby. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to the library. They go to there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful photos on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs.
